

John H. Ray, III
Senior Associate

Mr. Ray has over nine years of experience in complex securities fraud class actions and derivative actions and has coordinated expert damages analyses and reports as well as class certification and discovery. He was a senior associate at Ropes & Gray in Boston for four years where he managed legal teams handling securities fraud. At Ropes & Gray, he also worked on SEC Enforcement Proceedings and multi-state medicare fraud and pharmaceutical litigation. He has also managed a corporate internal investigation for a corporate board of directors' audit committee.

Mr. Ray was an associate at Cravath, Swain & Moore in New York for four years, managing cases involving employment arbitration and securities fraud. He has experience in product and insurance liability litigation as well as civil rights appeals.

John published articles in the Harvard Law Review on the Federal Carjacking Statute and the Census Act. He has trained and volunteered as a mediator in criminal and civil disputes at the Center for Conflict Resolution in Chicago.

Bar Membership:

- Illinois
- Massachusetts

Education:

J.D. (Juris doctor) Harvard law school, 2002
Harvard Law Review, Notes Editor; BLSA; Ames Moot Court.

B.S.B (Bachelor of Science in Business) University of Minnesota, Carlson School of Management, Corporate Finance, 1997
Social and Rush Chairman; Minnesota Student Association (Presidential Candidate)

Clerkship:

United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit, Chicago, IL
Law Clerk to Honorable Ann Claire Williams, Circuit Judge